

The highest probability target based on a triple Fibonacci confluence is a re-test of the .500 retracement level which is also a .618 extension of the 5 wave set down from 11/30, and a .618 extension of the 3 waves down from 12/4. The back-up target is 802-805. A turn at either of these targets will allow us to work higher. The target shown 821, the .618 extension, would be very bullish. We should pause/bounce at 821 either way.
